FEDERAL AGENCIES COOPERATE IN JOINT INVESTIGATION TO PROMOTE AIRPORT SECURITY – ARRESTS MADE INVOLVING SKY HARBOR INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT IN PHOENIX

PHOENIX, ARIZONA -The United States Attorney's Office for the District of Arizona announced today that on April 9 and 10th, 2002, in the United States District Court in Phoenix, Arizona, Indictments were returned against 33 persons alleging numerous violations of federal laws. The investigation, known as Operation Tarmac, is part of a multi-agency effort designed to ensure the safety of the flying public and to promote heightened security at the nation's airports. The goals of the nation-wide operation are to ensure that all persons with access to security-sensitive areas of the nation's airports meet certain background security standards and verify that all airport employees are properly documented and authorized to work in the United States. Every traveler has the right to know that those individuals with access to secured areas on the airport have been properly identified and their backgrounds verified. The security of the flying public is of the utmost importance. The Sky Harbor operation is the most recent in a series of such investigations that have occurred across the country, including airports in Boston, MA, Charlotte, NC, Las Vegas, NV, San Francisco, CA, San Diego, CA, Salt Lake City, UT, and Seattle, WA.

Over the past several weeks, agents reviewed computer records of the 11,095 individuals employed at Sky Harbor Airport who had access to secured areas. Using the social security numbers provided by airport employee computer records, agents computer-searched federal social security records to determine whether each of the numbers were valid, and if so, whether each social security number provided to employers was assigned to that particular individual. The review identified approximately 200 individuals for whom additional information was needed to determine whether each was properly documented. The security files of those approximately 200 individuals were then reviewed and the field was further narrowed to identify 33 Sky Harbor employees who had access to sensitive areas of the airport and were using false identification. The names of the 33 illegally employed individuals and the charges for which they were indicted in federal court are attached as a list.

Specifically, the defendants were charged with making false statements in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1001, possessing altered or counterfeited social security cards in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 408(a)(7)(C), falsely using social security numbers in violation of 42 U.S.C. § 408(a)(7)(B), and making false attestations in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1546(b)(3). All of the individuals charged in the Indictments worked at Sky Harbor International Airport in positions requiring security clearances and all had access to sensitive and secured areas of the airport, such as the ramps, runways, aircraft, and areas where aircraft are fueled and where airplane food is prepared. The defendants all resided in the Phoenix commuting area and were employees of companies that provide support services and do business at Sky Harbor Airport. The Indictments and arrest warrants were sealed until today, when the arrests took place.

If convicted, each defendant faces a maximum term of up to five years of imprisonment and a $250,000 fine on each count charged. However, any sentence following conviction would be dictated by the United States Federal Sentencing Guidelines, which take into account a number of factors, and would be imposed in the discretion of the Court. Additionally, the defendants may be ordered deported by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The investigation preceding the indictment was conducted by the Social Security Administration, Office of the Inspector General (“SSA/OIG”), the Immigration and Nationalization Service (INS), the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the Department of Transportation, Office of the Inspector General (“DOT/OIG”), and the US Marshals Service (“USMS”). The U.S. Attorney’s Office and the federal agencies involved in Operation Tarmac are committed to ensuring the safety of the traveling public at our nation’s airports. It is imperative that the agencies work together to prevent acts threatening public safety and national security, and that a proactive approach be taken to prevent and disrupt such acts. That cooperative spirit and the sharing of information between agencies was demonstrated in this investigation, and was crucial in order to effect the Indictments.

An indictment is simply the method by which a person is charged with criminal activity and raises no inference of guilt. An individual is presumed innocent until competent evidence is presented to a jury that establishes guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

The prosecutions are being handled by John K. Webb, Special Assistant United States Attorney, District of Arizona, Phoenix, Arizona.
